Your guide to premiums, excesses, discounts and claims payment

This Secure Landlord Insurance Premiums, Excesses, Discounts and Claims payment Guide (Guide) is designed to provide you with additional information about how we calculate premiums for, and pay claims under, this policy.

You should read this Guide together with our Secure Landlord Insurance Product Disclosure Statement (PDS), dated 20 April 2012, any Supplementary PDSs, and your schedule. Any words defined in the PDS apply to this Guide.

This guide is relevant to you if your policy has a commencement date or a renewal date on or after 4 September 2017.

About your premium

The premium is the amount you pay us for this insurance. It includes the risk premium which reflects what we consider is the likelihood of you making a claim, other factors related to our cost of doing business and any discounts we give you, as well as any applicable stamp duty, goods and services tax (GST), charge and levy. Your schedule will show you how much you have to pay.

When we calculate your premium, there are a range of factors we take into account. The importance we place on the factors we use can change and how those factors combine to affect your risk premium will differ from person to person.

The factors we use to calculate your premium may include:

- ▼ The address and locality of the insured address
- ▼ Sum insured
- ▼ Any options you have chosen
- ▼ Construction material of the property
- ▼ The type of property you are insuring (for example, a house or unit)
- ▼ Age of the property
- ▼ Age of the oldest named insured
- ▼ Type of security at the insured address
- ▼ How the property or unit is occupied
- ▼ The excess you choose
- ▼ The amount of commission we pay

Each time you renew your insurance your premium is likely to change, even if your personal circumstances have not changed. This is because the premium you pay is also affected by other things including:

- ▼ The cost of claims we have paid to other customers and claims we expect to pay in the future
- ▼ New and updated data we use to calculate your premium
- ▼ Changes in government taxes and any state or territory duties or levies
- ▼ Our expenses of doing business and other commercial factors

When determining your renewal premium, we also consider how much you paid last time. As such we may limit movements up or down to avoid large changes in premiums across different periods of cover.

Premium discounts

From time to time we may offer discounts or some other special offer as part of a marketing campaign. If we do this, separate terms and conditions will usually apply. The amount and type of discounts that may be offered can change or be withdrawn.

Government taxes and charges

After we have calculated the amount to cover your landlord insurance policy any applicable stamp duty, GST, charge and levy are then applied.

Excesses

The amount and types of excess that apply to your policy are shown on your schedule and are also described in the PDS. The different types of excesses are:

Property and Contents basic excesses

The basic excesses that apply to your policy are determined at the time the policy is issued and can vary based on our assessment of the risk. If you apply to vary your basic excesses and we agree to the variation, your basic excesses will be the amount chosen by you from our range. The amount of the excess is shown on your schedule.

Additional excess

In some circumstances, an additional excess may apply based on our assessment of the risk. This excess is applicable in addition to any other excess unless stated otherwise in the PDS or your schedule.

Loss of rent – Insured event excess

In addition to any other excess, a loss of rent – insured event excess will apply if you have selected optional Loss of rent – Insured event cover and you make a claim. The amount of the excess is shown on your schedule.

Malicious damage and theft excess

In addition to any other excess, a malicious damage and theft excess of $500 will apply if you make a claim for malicious damage, theft or attempted theft caused by your tenant or by someone who is at the insured address with your consent or the consent of your tenant.

Earthquake and tsunami excess

In addition to any other excess, an excess of $200 will apply if you make a claim for loss or damage as a result of an earthquake or tsunami.

Unoccupied excess

In addition to any other excess, an unoccupied excess of $1,000 will apply if you claim for loss or damage to your property and contents which occurs when your property has been unoccupied for more than 60 continuous days.

Claims payment examples

The following examples show how Vero may typically pay landlord insurance claims. They are examples only. Vero always determines real claim payments on an individual basis, after we have assessed each claim.

Notes about the claims payment examples:

- ▼ all amounts are shown in Australian dollars and are GST-inclusive
- ▼ all examples assume that the named insured is not registered for GST

You should read the PDS and your schedule for full details of what we cover as well as what policy limits, conditions and exclusions apply.
