Significant benefits and features

Household Removals insurance protects your financial investment in your property during transit. Cover includes an extended transit period, from the 'floor' of one residence to the 'floor' of another, including storage in the normal course of transit.

Our policy conditions give you the option to either insure your property for loss or damage caused by:

- ▼ specified events including:
 - ▼ fire, flood, collision or overturning of the land conveyance;
 - ▼ fire, collision, crash or forced landing of the aircraft;
 - ▼ fire, collision, stranding, sinking or contact of the ship or vessel;

or

- ▼ all risks from any external cause including:
 - ▼ breakage, scratching, denting, chipping, bruising and the like, theft, pilferage and non-delivery.

The policy also provides, where the transit is by air or sea, automatic cover for salvage and general average contributions and loss or damage to property caused by war or warlike activities while on board the carrying vessel or aircraft.

Where you elect to store your property (other than storage incidental to the normal course of transit), you also have the option to extend the policy to cover this storage period. An additional premium will apply.

You can choose to insure your property for its current market value or for its new replacement cost (property up to 10 years old).

The policy does not have an excess. You can choose to reduce your premium by electing to have an excess applied to your policy, subject to a minimum excess of $100.

When benefits are provided

These benefits for which you are insured under the policy are payable when:

- ▼ your application for insurance has been accepted;
- ▼ the premium has been paid;
- ▼ an insured event occurs during the period of insurance causing loss or damage to your property; and
- ▼ your claim is accepted by us.

When we pay a claim we consider a number of aspects in calculating the amount payable.

These can include:

- ▼ the amount of loss or damage;
- ▼ the excess (if any);
- ▼ the sum insured;
- ▼ the terms and conditions of the policy; and
- ▼ your taxable status for GST purposes.

The amount you pay for this insurance

The amount we charge you for this insurance policy is the total amount of the premium that we calculate to cover the risk plus any relevant government charges (such as stamp duty). This is the total amount payable shown on your schedule and is the amount you must pay. If you change your policy in any way you may be required to pay an additional premium.

How various factors affect your premium

We consider a number of factors in calculating your premium. The key factor that affects your premium is the type of cover and optional benefits you choose. If you select more extensive cover, for example cover for all risks and for extra storage, then your premium will be higher than if you select cover for specified events only.

The amount of premium that you pay will also depend on the information you give us about your property and the other factors listed below. These other factors include:

- ▼ whether you elect New Replacement Cost or Current Market Value sum insured;
- ▼ what type of property you are insuring eg: are there a high proportion of fragile items?;
- ▼ whether or not the goods are professionally packed;
- ▼ the length and method of transit;
- ▼ the level of excess you request.

Where we view most of these factors in combination as decreasing the risk, it tends to reduce the premium; and where we view most of these factors as increasing the risk, it tends to increase the premium.

The following table gives a guide on how some of these factors may impact on your premium.

Factor	Lower Risk	Higher Risk
Sum Insured	Current Market Value	New Replacement Cost
Type of property	Non-breakable items	Fragile items
Packing	Professionally packed	Owner-packed
Length and method of transit	Within Metropolitan area	Inter-state/Overseas
Level of excess	Excess applied	No excess

Important information

The insurance we offer you is set out in the policy.

It is important that you:

- ▼ read all of the policy before you buy it to make sure that it gives you the protection you need;
- ▼ are aware of the limits on the amounts we will pay you; and
- ▼ are aware of the policy definitions, exclusions and limitations.

For the policy limits:

- ▼ the total sum insured will be the amount specified in your schedule.

You should also retain any documentation that supports the description and value of the property insured. This will assist you in the event of a claim.

In some circumstances the terms and conditions of this policy may be amended by endorsement. If your policy is endorsed you will receive notification of the endorsement.

If you have purchased this insurance product through someone other than Vero, for example, a person who has authority from Vero to distribute Vero's insurance products, that person will receive remuneration from Vero for providing a financial service.

Significant risks

The risks associated with your Household Removals Insurance Cover include:

- ▼ Cover may not be adequate because the type or amount of cover you require does not match the cover provided by your policy. For example, you require cover for delay but this policy excludes this event.
- ▼ We can refuse to pay part or all of a claim if you do not comply with policy terms and conditions. For example, in applying for this insurance or when making a claim you are not truthful, or do not give us accurate and complete information, or do not tell us something when you should have.
- ▼ Average or coinsurance may apply if you do not insure the full value of your property. Please see the "Average or Coinsurance" section of the policy that details how this will affect your claim.

How to make a claim

If your property is lost or damaged during the transit or storage covered by this policy, there are certain actions that you should take to protect your rights and assist with any claim there may be under this policy. These are detailed in the "How to Make a Claim" section of the policy.

The amount you pay towards a claim

An excess is an amount you are required to pay in the event of a claim. This policy does not contain an excess. However, you can reduce your premium by choosing to have an excess, subject to a minimum excess of $100 and acceptance by us. Your chosen excess will be shown in your schedule. We will subtract the excess you choose from the amount we pay in the event of a claim.

An example of how an insurance claim works

You have elected All Risks cover and New Replacement Cost for your five-year-old television and other property. The television is dropped and we agree to replace it. The New Replacement Cost is $1,200. You have chosen a $200 excess.

The total payable is $1,200 less the $200 excess, which equals $1,000.

Taxation information

This insurance policy is subject to GST.

If you are registered for GST purposes, you may be able to claim an Input Tax Credit in respect of the GST we collect from you. For more information on GST please refer to the "GST settlement provisions" section of the policy.

The stamp duty laws vary in every state and territory in Australia. If stamp duty is payable on this insurance, the amount of stamp duty will be shown on your policy schedule.

If you are unsure about the taxation implications of your policy you should seek advice from your accountant or tax professional.

Cooling off

You have the right to cancel and return the insurance contract within 20 days of the date it was issued to you (the “cooling off period”) but not after commencement of cover under the policy.

If you cancel it in this time, we will return to you any premium you have paid us.

Code of practice

We have adopted the General Insurance Code of Practice developed by the Insurance Council of Australia. The Code is designed to promote good relations and good insurance practice between insurers, intermediaries and consumers. The Code sets out what we must do when dealing with you. Please contact us if you want more information about the Code (refer to the “How You Contact Us” section).

Duty of Disclosure

You have a legal duty of disclosure to us whenever you apply for, or change an insurance policy.

What you must tell us

You have a general duty to disclose to us everything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, is relevant to our decision whether to insure you, and, if we do, on what terms.

However, your duty does not require you to disclose anything:

We will use the answers in deciding whether to insure you and anyone else to be insured under the policy, and on what terms.

Who needs to tell us

It is important that you understand you are disclosing to us and answering our questions for yourself and anyone else you want to be covered by the policy.

If you do not tell us

If you do not answer our questions honestly or do not properly disclose to us, we may reduce or refuse to pay a claim or may cancel the policy. If you act fraudulently in answering our questions or not disclosing to us, we may refuse to pay a claim or treat the policy as never having existed.

Meanings of special words in this policy

In this policy certain words have special meanings. They have the same meanings wherever they appear. These words are:

“you” or “your” – means the insured named in the schedule.

“we” or “our” or “us” or “the insurer” – means Vero Insurance Limited ABN 48 005 297 807.

“excess” – means the amount you must pay towards a claim, as specified in the schedule.

“property” – means the property or interest specified in the policy schedule.

“insured transit” – means the transit or voyage specified in the policy schedule.

“sum insured” – means the sum insured specified in the schedule.

“policy” – means this policy wording, the current schedule, and any endorsement, all of which are to be read together.

“premium” – means the premium specified in the schedule and includes any Government charges specified in the schedule.

All the terms, conditions and limits of this insurance contract are set out in:

- ▼ this policy wording, and
- ▼ your schedule.

In this insurance contract between you and us:

- ▼ we agree to provide you with the insurance shown in your schedule, and in return,
- ▼ you agree to pay us your premium including any relevant government charges by the date advised to you.

You can claim for loss or damage to your property covered by this insurance only if:

- ▼ it is caused by a risk included in the cover option stated in your schedule and not excluded by this policy; and
- ▼ it occurs during the period of insurance.

We will then pay you according to the sum insured option set out in your schedule and our claims details contained in this policy wording.

The terms and conditions and limits apply if you have to make a claim – so it is important that you:

- ▼ read your policy and schedule carefully,
- ▼ check that your details on your schedule are correct and up to date,
- ▼ keep the policy wording and schedule together in a safe place.

Transit and storage

Cover commences from the time your property is lifted from the floor of your residence for the purpose of moving on to the conveying vehicle to commence the transit described in the schedule. Cover continues during the ordinary course of transit, including any storage incidental to the transit (up to a maximum of 30 days), and concludes when each item is placed on the floor at the destination nominated in your schedule.

There is no cover during any periods where you elect to store your property (other than storage incidental to the ordinary course of transit) unless you have requested such cover in your application and we have agreed to your request. If we do, the cover option you select for the transit will also apply during any agreed storage periods.

What Property is insured

This insurance covers the property you have described in your application. In your application, if you did not include a value against a category we do not insure that category of property. However we do not insure cash, banknotes, credit/debit cards or similar, stamp, coin, or other collections, jewellery, securities, or documents of value (even if they are described in your application).

Only the total sum insured will be shown in your schedule, however we will use the individual category values and any other special values shown in your application when settling any claims under this insurance.

Excess means the amount you must pay towards a claim. We do not require you to pay any excess when we are settling your claims unless you have elected an excess in your application. If you have elected an excess the amount of the excess is shown in your schedule.

Pairs and Sets

Where any insured item(s) forming part of a pair or set is lost or damaged and cannot be repaired, we will not pay more than a proportionate part of the insured value of the pair or set. Where any item(s) has a special value as part of any set, such special value will be taken into account in the claim settlement.

Replacement

Whilst we will endeavour to match items being replaced with the same make and model as that lost or damaged beyond repair, this is often not possible. In such cases, we reserve the right to settle the loss by payment to you or replacement with the make and model having the nearest specifications to the original.

Living Plants or Animals

If living plants or animals are described in your application, they are insured, however cover is limited to "Specified Events" cover as detailed herein even if you elect "All Risks" cover.

How to make a claim

If your property is lost or damaged during the transit or storage covered by this policy, there are certain actions that you should take to protect your rights and assist with any claim there may be under this policy. These are:

- ▼ note details of any items lost or damaged on the consignment note before you sign same,
- ▼ as soon as possible, write to the carrier holding them responsible for the loss or damage,
- ▼ take all reasonable precautions to prevent any further loss or damage to your property,
- ▼ immediately notify us by phoning our toll-free number 1300-664201, advising details of your loss and your policy number. Please do this even if you have not unpacked all of your property,
- ▼ do not have any of your property repaired or replaced without our consent,
- ▼ complete and return our claim form as quickly as possible, include a copy of any inventory,
- ▼ co-operate with any surveyor that may be appointed,
- ▼ provide to us any invoices/documents proving the value of your property which may be lost or damaged.

How we will settle your claims

We will settle your claims based on the option shown in your schedule. The options are:

A. Current Value settlement

You have the option to insure your nominated property for current new replacement value less a reasonable allowance for age, condition, wear, tear and depreciation.

B. New Replacement Cost (up to 10 years old) settlement

(NOT AVAILABLE ON MOTOR VEHICLES)

You have the option to insure your nominated property (other than motor vehicles) which are no more than 10 years old for full new replacement cost. For any property, which is more than 10 years old, even if you selected new replacement cost option, you agree to insure such property for current value (see Option A above).

Average or coinsurance

If you do not insure your property for the full value as per the option you selected, what is known as coinsurance, under-insurance or average will apply. If you insure your property for less than 80% of its actual value, determined by using the sum insured option you have selected, you will only be entitled to recover the proportion of any claim that the sum insured bears to 80% of the actual value. An example of coinsurance, under-insurance or average is:

How we calculate your claim if average or coinsurance applies:

Based on the sum insured option you elect in your application, your property has an actual value of $50,000. However, you only request us to insure your property for $30,000. You submit a claim for $1,000.

the insured value			$30,000
80% of the actual value of $50,000			$40,000
the proportion you can claim is 75%	75%	x		$1,000 (the claim) = $750	(less any excess)

The balance of $250 is not paid by us as you did not insure for the full value and did not pay us a premium for the underinsured proportion. You cannot elect to pay us this premium after a loss.

GST settlement provisions

Notwithstanding the payment provisions contained in this policy, we will pay you:

- ▼ where you cannot claim an input tax credit in respect of the cost of repairs or replacement to make good the loss, the amount(s) payable as detailed in the policy, including the amount of any Goods and Services Tax (GST) incurred to make good the loss, or
- ▼ where you can claim an input tax credit in respect of the cost of repairs or replacement to make good the loss, the amount(s) payable as detailed in this policy, less any input tax credits available to you or the third party in respect of the loss.
